THE CHALLENGE

- Numerous Repetitive Transactions in Multiple Technology Systems
- Time-Consuming Manual Updates
- Inconsistent Data and Unreliable Reporting

Flex Technology Group was looking to automate employee processes, minimize manual work, and streamline data across their UKG Ready and Everfi technology systems. Courtney Fink, Human Resource Information System Manager, seized the opportunity to evaluate their Human Capital Management (HCM) technology investment for optimization and required a guide to focus on scalability and speed. Moreover, Flex Technology Group strived to reduce costs associated with manual processing, ensure compliance standards, and make their employees' lives easier.

THE SOLUTION

- Deployed Integration and Streamlined Data
- Reduced Administrative Overhead with Automation
- Maximize HCM Systems Value

Flex Technology Group engaged RJ Reliance to execute HCM Technology optimization through integration and automation. RJ Reliance successfully configured and deployed the UKG Ready and Everfi integration, and optimized existing integrations for Flex Technology Group. Systematic thinking immediately placed focus on leveraging the technology to scale with a meaningful impact on an efficient and effective employee experience.

“RJ Reliance has become a trusted partner as their experts took the time to understand our business needs and objectives. Flex Technology Group had a vision of where we wanted to be- RJ Reliance created and deployed the roadmap to get us there!”
